7.0   High Quality Pages

High quality pages serve a beneficial purpose and achieve that purpose well. High quality pages exist for almost any beneficial purpose you can imagine, from providing information to selling products to making people laugh to artistic expression.

To identify High quality pages, start by considering the following:

Initial Consideration	High Quality Pages
The purpose of the page	High quality pages have a beneficial purpose.
The potential for the page to cause harm as described in these guidelines	High quality pages are not expected to cause harm.
The topic of the page, the type of website, and the extent to which YMYL standards apply	A page on any topic or any type of website may qualify for High. Give special scrutiny to pages on YMYL topics or websites needing a high level of trust, such as online stores.
The title of the page	High quality pages have titles that summarize the page.
The role of Ads and SC on the page	The Ads and SC do not block or significantly interfere with the MC on HIgh quality pages. Remember: Many websites need monetization to share content with users. The presence or absence of Ads alone is not a consideration for PQ rating.
Information provided by the website and content creator	High quality pages have adequate information about the website and content creator for the purpose of the page. For stores or websites that process financial transactions, examine the customer service information. Important: For personal content shared on social media platforms or forums, an alias or username is adequate.

Next, assess the page to determine if the criteria for High apply:

High Page Quality Assessment	High Quality Pages must demonstrate at least one of the following
Quality of the MC	MC created with a high level of effort, originality, talent, or skill such that the page achieves its purpose well.
Reputation of the website and content creator	Positive reputation of the website for the topic of the page. Positive reputation of the content creator for the topic of the MC.
